The Internet platform "DeFacto - proves what others think" (www.defacto.expert) was founded in June 2015 and for a period of two years by Swiss National Fund within the framework of the Agora funding instrument, which promotes dialogue between Science and society stands, funded. The aim of the platform is to present results from university research and Expert knowledge from Swiss political science and others social science and related disciplines such as law or to bring economics closer to an interested broad audience. The contents of Platform contribute to political and social events by means of an independent, scientific analysis.

DeFacto – The knowledge transfer platform of the Swiss political sciences

The Internet platform "DeFacto - proves what others think" (www.defacto.expert) was founded in June 2015 and for a period of two years by Swiss National Fund within the framework of the Agora funding instrument, which promotes dialogue between Science and society stands, funded. The aim of the platform is to present results from university research and Expert knowledge from Swiss political science and others social science and related disciplines such as law or to bring economics closer to an interested broad audience. The contents of Platform contribute to political and social events by means of an independent, scientific analysis.

Sarah Bütikofer is a political scientist, consultant, and science communicator with a focus on Swiss politics and parliamentary research. She is editor of the online platform of Swiss political sciences DeFacto. Sarah Bütikofer teaches courses on Swiss politics, science communication and journalism for social scientists in various institutions and is project partner of Sotomo.