Offer

Self-Learning Centre

Learning software

Our eleven computer workstations provide you with learning software for:

- the preparation of TOEFL and GMAT tests;
- learning languages (French, Italian, Spanish, Russian, etc.).

To use one of our computer workstations for free, please reserve a seat via our platform www.languages-for-life.ch.

Language literature and media

Our centre has a large selection of language books and media that you can look at on site or borrow. You can find these books on the HSG Library catalogue \(HSGswisscovery\).

There are also comfortable workstations available for you to dedicate yourself to language learning.

Q&A

Self-Learning Centre

How much does it cost to use the Self-Learning Centre?

The Self-Learning Centre is free of charge for students and other members of the University of St.Gallen. For external users, the offer of the Self-Study Centre costs CHF 60 per semester or CHF 30 per month begun.

What am I allowed to take with me into the Self-Learning Centre?

You can bring anything that you need for your language training or test preparation. Food is not allowed in the Self-Learning Centre. Drinks must be closed, as in the library. Jackets and bags must be kept in the wardrobe (lockers and padlocks are provided).

Can I borrow books or CDs from the Self-Learning Centre?

In general, all media in the Self-Learning Centre are intended for use on site. However, it is also possible to borrow media.

I would like to prepare intensively for an exam. Can I reserve a computer workstation, a learning programme or a book in advance?

Yes, you can make a reservation either via our reservation platform or in person during opening hours with the staff at the Self-Learning Centre. Just write us an e-mail to sprachenservices@unisg.ch and suggest the time slots that you would like to use our infrastructure.
